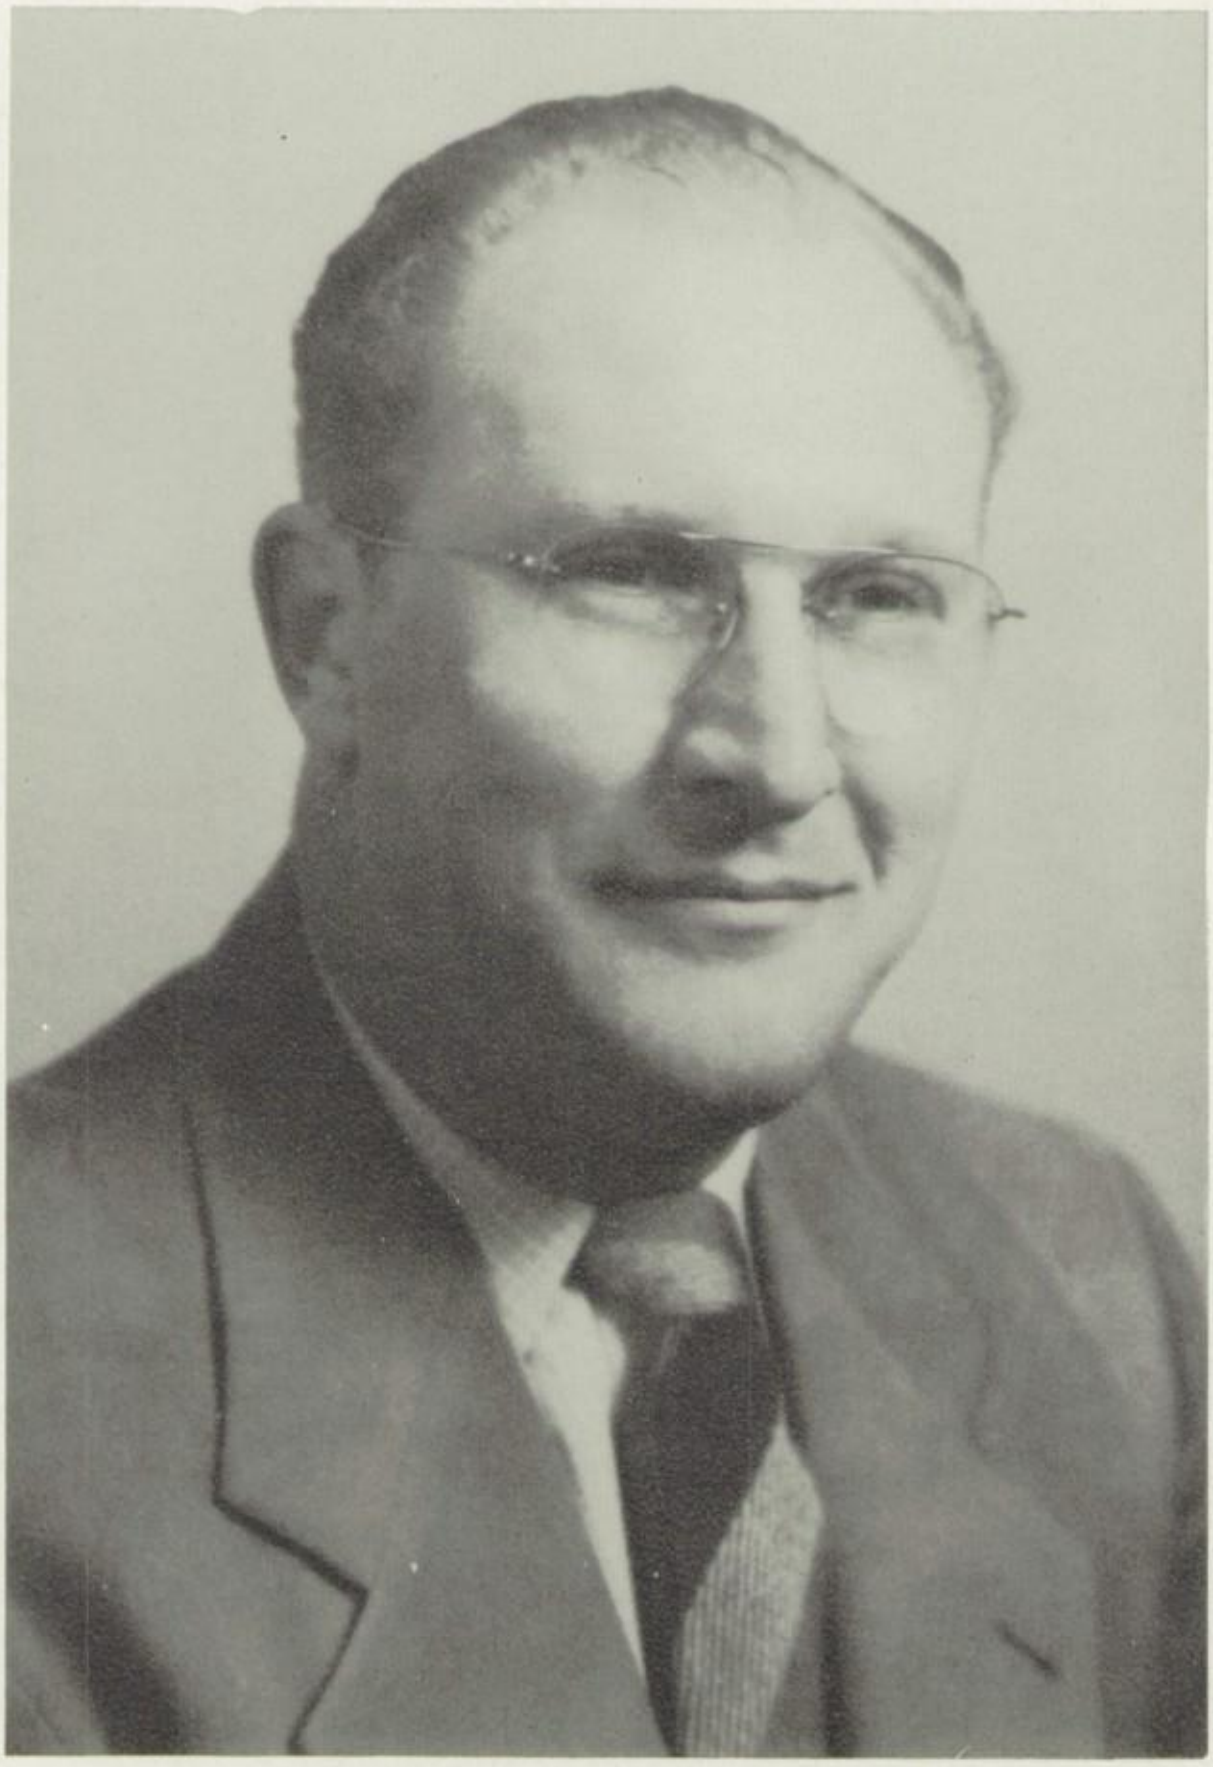
Foreword

In the presentation of this publication of the Vox, we, the class of 1951, are trying to portray accurately our school life. We hope that our friends and classmates enjoy this resume' and can fully picture our school activities as they are shown here.

Dedication



We, the class of 1951, take great pride in dedicating our yearbook to Mr. Robert Reber, known as "Red". Mr. Reber has worked diligently with our baseball and basketball teams. Due to his leadership our teams are now among those which are feared.

Mr. Reber is highly respected as a teacher and as a businessman. We seniors are proud of our home room teacher.

1901 - 1951

Fifty years ago in 1901 the present Denver Borough school building was built. Because of this fact, the class of 1951 wishes to outline briefly the history of this school.

The first class, consisting of three members, graduated in 1903. In this class were Florence Mentzer, Mary Wicker and Will Renninger. At the Commencement program, each graduate presented an oration.

In 1907, there were no graduation exercises. This was due to the change from the two to the three year high school course. Again in 1925, the course was changed to include four years of high school.

The growth of the school continued until, in 1947, the graduating class was composed of thirty members.

During this fifty year span, eight men have served in the capacity as principal. These include: Augustus Oswald, Samuel H. Ziegler, O. H. Fogelsanger, R. E. Kieeny, A. P. Wenger, W. R. Parmer, I. J. Kreider and John P. Krick. Mr. Krick began his duties in the year 1921, therefore, this year marks his thirtieth year as principal of the Denver Borough High School.

We, the class of 1951, are proud of the progress of the past and feel honored to become alumni of this school. As we look into the future, the vision is bright with a new consolidated school looming on the horizon.

PRESIDENT

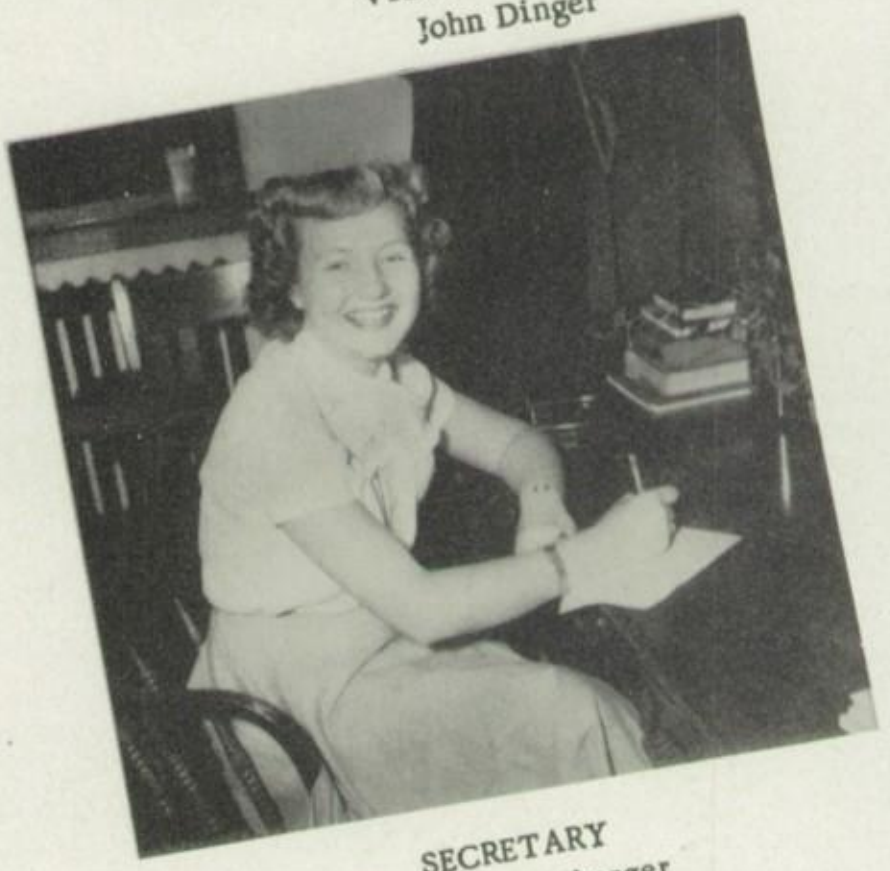
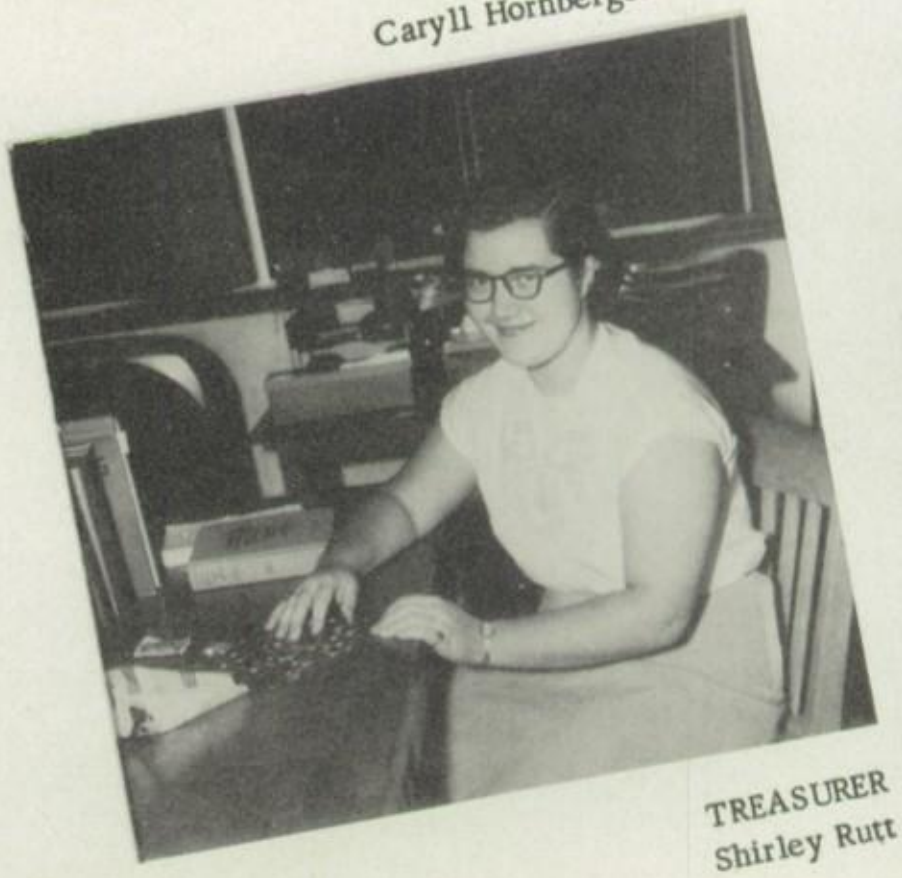
VICE-PRESIDENT
John Dinger

Senior Class Officers



SECRETARY
Caryll Hornberger



TREASURER
Shirley Rutt

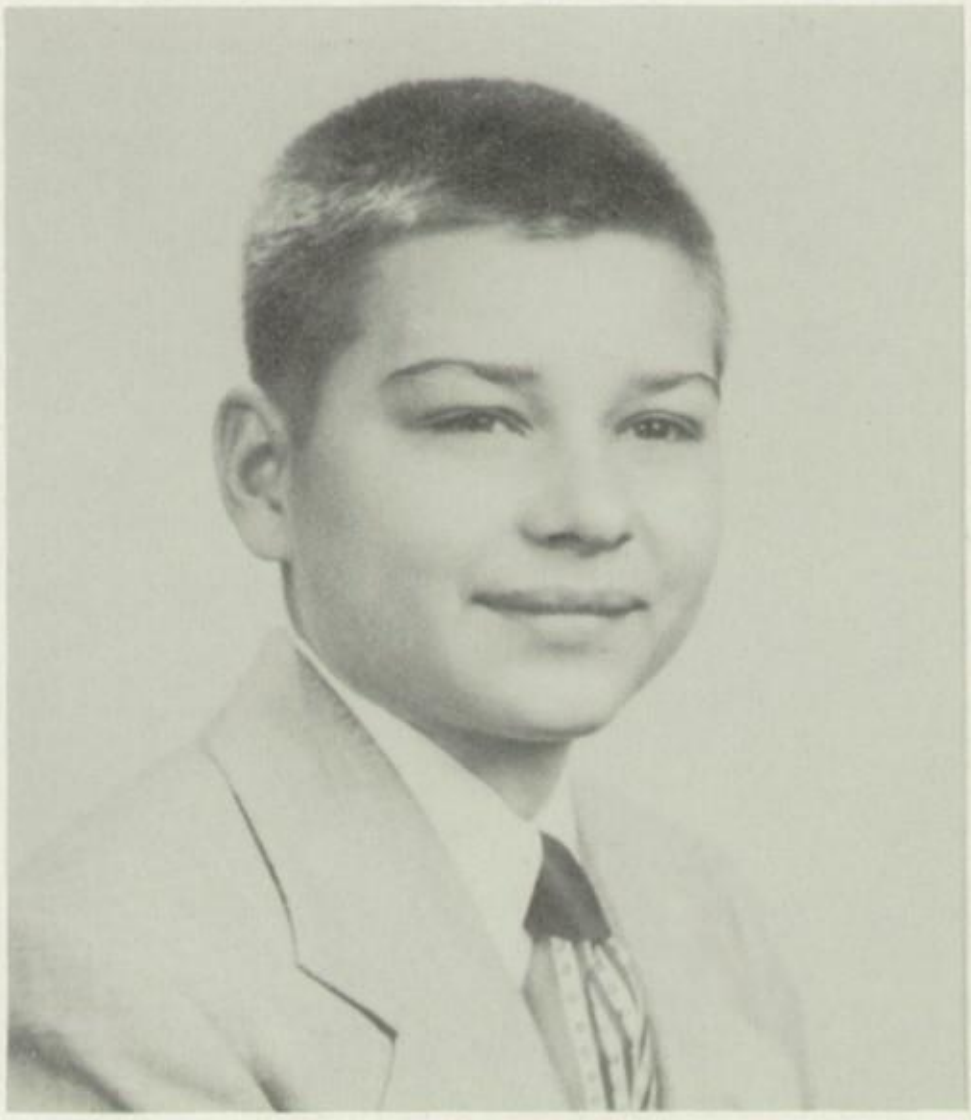
FAY DELPHINE ALTHOUSE
"Delphie"

Tall and neat, Fay is the secretary for the elementary teachers. Since Fay's abilities lie in the field of typing and mimeographing, her ambition is to someday teach the elementary school. This essential position is well fitted to our efficient classmate.

One of the six girls who forms a special group of singers from the senior class, Fay is also a member of the color guard of the band.

A commendable student, Fay is never found being a disturbor of the peace. With a characteristic twinkle in her eye, Fay can always be seen with an armload of books. Usually Fay and her chiefmate, "Sissy", cause Mr. Reber to raise his head as the 8:25 bell rings.

We, the class of '51, wish you the best of luck.



ROBERT ALLEN BACHMAN
"Bobby"

Although "Bobby" may be lacking in height and age, he can always be found in the midst of any senior disturbance. Our year-book editor will diligently visit the barber in spite of the promise which he has made to the female population of our class. Said, "Bobby", "If the girls will treat me better, I will let my hair grow." We are still waiting, Herr Bachman.

Because of his intense love for science and mathematics, "Bobby" has succeeded in spreading his interests throughout our classes. The only brave soul who delved into the mysteries of solid geometry, "Bobby" hopes to attend the Naval Academy at Annapolis.

"Best of Success, "Bobby".

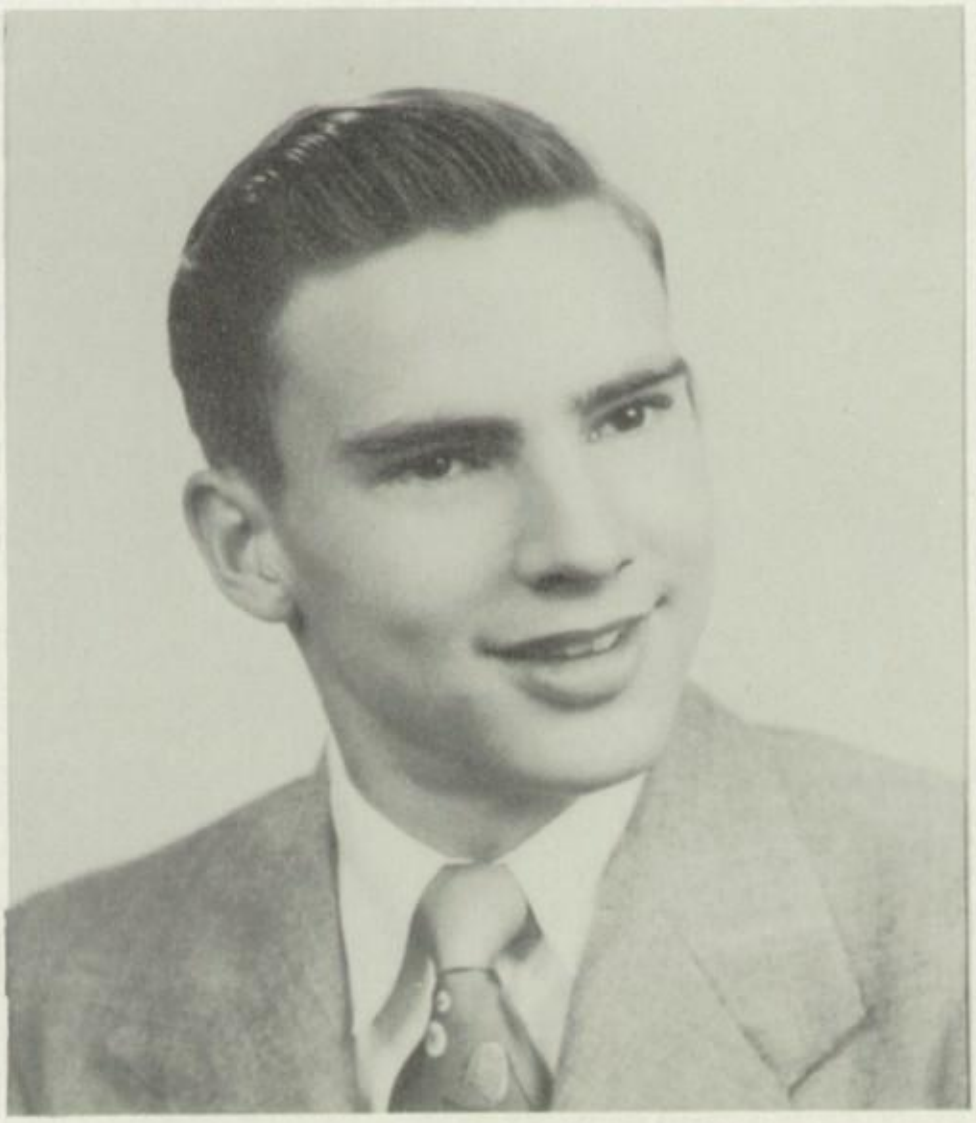
ROBERT EUGENE CROUSE
"Leb"

"Leb", the sleepy-eyed member of our class, is a man of business. In spite of his occupation at the F. and M. Hat Factory, "Leb" manages to arrive at school occasionally.

Although "Leb" has a Merry Oldsmobile, almost everyone agrees that it must be the driver who is merry. It is a well known fact that the roads must be clear when "Leb" drives through or he'll see that they are when he's past.

Someday we will see "Leb" as a city alderman because he has an avid interest in politics. His interests also range to the business field in which he lends an ear as a member of the business staff of the yearbook.

As you seek your place in the world, we all wish you luck, "Leb".



JOHN HAROLD DINGER
"Dinger"

Tall, dark and handsome - the girls' heart throb - aptly describes our vice-president for three years. When "Dinger" comes speeding past in his Mercury even the teachers sit up and take notice.

As president of the Student Council, "Dinger" has the responsibility of maintaining order under the new constitution.

One of Mrs. Imber's right hand senior men, "Dinger" voices a tenor in the mixed chorus and plays a trombone in the band.

A fellow always ready to help, "Johnnie" can often be seen transporting seniors or a junior to various functions of the high school.

"Dinger" owns one of the rare personalities which is liked by everyone. A jolly fellow well met, we will miss his cheery disposition as we take our places in the world.

As you leave, "Dinger," we wish you the best.

FRED FICHTHORN
"Fred"

"Fred" is one of those fortunate people who seems to have everything. Good looks, a neat dresser, and a '42 Dodge are all counted in Fred's favor. Although Fred is often seen in the company of a certain junior girl, he is not reluctant to chauffeur the seniors to any of their multiple activities.

Ever willing to share his load of the heavy senior burden, "Fred" is one of three on the Business Staff of the Vox. A potential businessman, this experience should prove invaluable to him.

A good fellow to have in our midst, we, the class of '51, wish him all the good that is to be his.

MARY LOUISE GUNSELMAN
"Mert"

Mary is a fair attractive lass who is ever willing to be of aid in whatever capacity she is needed. An intelligent girl, Mary spends much time in using her gray matter. An excellent student, Mary is a delight to any teacher.

In addition to her classroom activities, Mary is kept quite occupied as she marches in the color guard of the band or reports and writes for the Hi-Notes.

Mary will be successful in her chosen vocation as an elementary school teacher. In preparation for this work Mary cleans houses and is a children's nursemaid in her spare time. We know she will be a loved teacher.

When you leave us, Mary, we give you all the best.

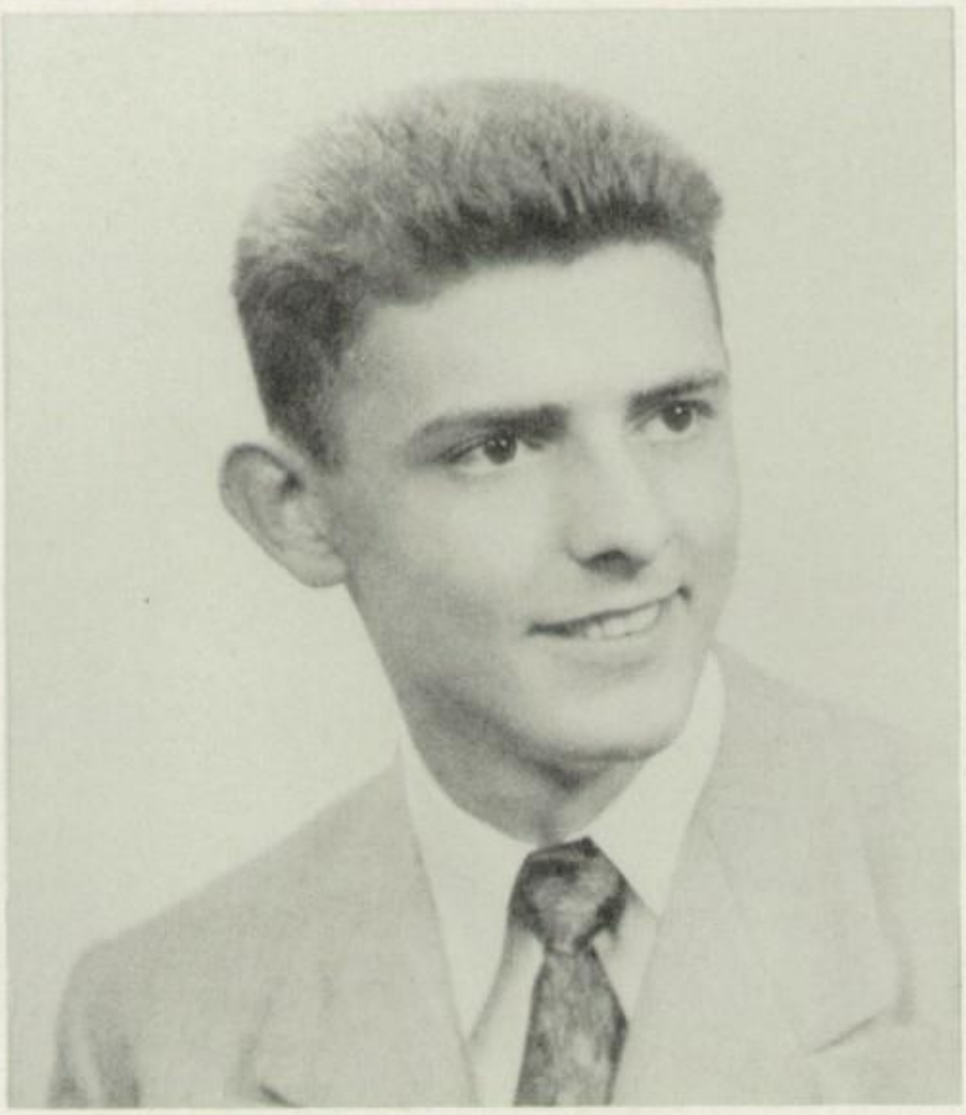
RUTH ALICE HAGY
"Sissy"

One of the few senior girls to cope with the more difficult scientific and mathematical studies of Denver High, "Sissy" is a neat jolly lass. A studious girl, one who is ever faithful, "Sissy" is a conscientious member of the Student Council.

Ruth Alice's interests are legionary. As a member of the girls' sextette and the Mixed Chorus, "Sissy" sings a true second soprano. As a band member, she takes her place in the front with the color guard.

"Brains without beauty" is not true of "Sissy". Not only a popular girl with all of us, but also one who is attractive and willing to voice her thoughtful opinion, "Sissy" is a welcome member of our class.

Whether you nurse the ill or keep house, "Sissy", we, the class of '51, send our thoughts with you.



WILBUR RAY HIRNEISEN
"Willie Ray"

A "ten o'clock scholar" would well describe "Willie Ray." More tardy than on time, Wilbur is frequently being awakened in class to be informed of the most recent occurences.

One of the reasons Wilbur is so well-liked is that he is perpetually amusing. His serious but droll countenance is a happy interlude to our more serious moments.

When he is not in school, Wilbur is chief cook at the Reinhold's Restaurant. In school, however, Wilbur is a member of the Student Council. As another extracurricular activity Wilbur served as timekeeper for the basketball games. In this capacity, we owe him our gratitude for being faithful to the last second.

Wherever you find yourself in the years to come, Wilbur, we, the class of '51, will be thinking about you.

CARYLL ANN HORNBERGER
"Cookie"

Quite the conversationalist inside and outside of the classroom, "Cookie" is a cheery character to have in our class. One of "Cookie's" chief asset is that her fingers can fly fast on the piano. Because of this talent, Caryll is Mrs. Imber's right hand girl. "Cookie" not only accompanies the mixed chorus and the girls' chorus but also the senior girls' sextette.

Caryll has successfully proved her efficiency as a secretary. For three years she has kept the records of our class and this year she is serving as the chief recorder of the Student Council.

Although within a minute's walk of the school, "Cookie" is practically always the last one to enter the senior homeroom.

When you organize that orchestra, "Cookie", our musical wishes go with you.

KATHRYN GRACE MARTZALL
"Kassie"

"Kassie" is perhaps the quietest member of the class. This attribute, however, is only a camouflage for the real girl. Kathryn is a dependable, trustworthy girl, one who plays her various roles with an unassuming air.

Although always very busy in school, Kathryn does not confine her activities only to the school room. In her spare time at noon and in the evening she is either occupied with her waitress position at Daniel's Diner or else she is delivering papers via bicycle.

Conscientious in all that she endeavors to do, Kathryn is an indispensable member of the photography staff of the 1951 Vox. In whatever she does, Kathryn is diligent and eager.

As you seek your place in life, "Kassie", our best luck is yours.

KENNETH RAY MOYER
"Kenny"

"Kenny" has faithfully steered us through our sorrows and joys of the past three years, serving quite ably in the capacity of chief executive of our class. "Kenny" has been a source of inspiration to the rest of us.

Small and mighty would describe "Kenny" as he heads the boys' basketball team. As a two-letter sportsman, he zealously guards the third-base area.

"Kenny's" job as business manager was greatly reduced since the School Board has resumed the obligation, however, in this position, as in many others, "Kenny" was willing to help in any way he could.

Perhaps we can term Moyer as the one true Romeo of our class. He has faithfully maintained the title for a period of two years. "Beware, 'Kenny', the course of true love isn't always smooth."

As a true friend, we, the class of '51, wish you the best in life.

URSULA HELEN NEIDHARDT

Whenever we see Ursula, she is always hurrying. Although this is characteristic of Ursula in her walk, this is not true when we observe the careful, well planned work which she does.

Due to her deep interest in the field of science, Ursula has managed to maintain high grades in physics and chemistry. An earnest student, Ursula never has any leisure time in school.

As treasurer of the Dramatics Club during her Junior year, Ursula served capably. Her deep alto voice can be heard in the girls' sextette.

Because of environmental ties, Ursula is quite competent in her position on the photography staff of the yearbook.

As you seek your fortune, Ursula, we wish you all the best.

MILDRED MARIE RAMSEY
"Millie"

"Millie" is one of the most versatile girls in our class. Not only does she excel in all forms of athletics but also in her classroom subjects. As captain of the girls' basketball team "Millie" has spurred our teams to action.

Her art ability is exhibited in the pages of the 1951 "Vox". When any class activity needs advertisements, "Millie" is always ready to pen them for us.

In order to show the varied range of her interests, we find "Millie" as a member of the senior girls' sextette and a diligent, careful typist and stenographer.

Regarding the future, you have our best wishes.

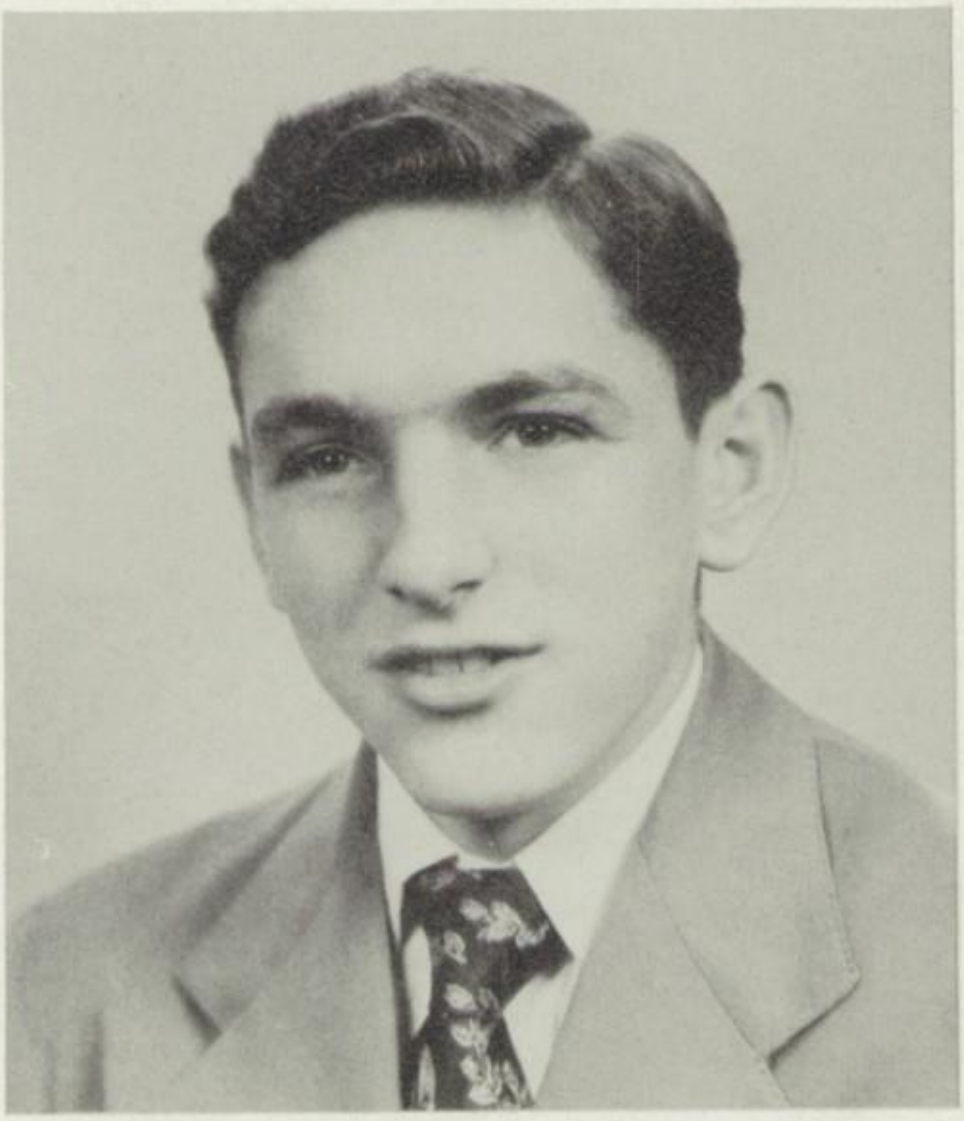
SHIRLEY JANE RUTT
"Rutty"

For 3 years the treasurer's accounts have been a perpetual headache to "Rutty". Her never failing vigilance has been successful in collecting the "dough". Shirley could be seen attempting to attend mixed chorus occasionally during her four years in Denver High School.

This dark haired lass has a dry wit which has often prevented our class from being in the sloughs of despair.

Although Shirley completes her English assignments, her favorite literature is the comic book. As literary editor of the yearbook, "Rutty" has had her share of responsibility in this publication.

As Shirley takes her place upon the alumni of Denver Hi; we, the class of 1951, wish her "Good Luck".



GLENN SHOBER
"Shober"

Pep, noise, opinion - here comes "Shober." This short, blond, pepper-box is the lone male on the cheerleading squad. An ardent worker, Glenn not only serves as sports editor on the Hi-Notes staff but also spends his leisure time loafing at the F. & M. Hat Company.

Although a fellow with a high I. Q., Shober spends quite a bit of his school time in planning and carrying out escapades in which the whole senior class takes part. Shober is unpredictable, but a good sport.

A successful chemist and physicist, Shober will be a success in the field of electronics.

We, the class of '51, wish you the best of everything.

ETHEL S. STUBER
"Ethel"

Do you hear a giggle? Do you see a naturally curly headed girl? Do you observe someone giving a serious opinion? Do you see trouble or hear noise? If you do, it must be Ethel, the peppy lass from North Sixth Street.

A carefree driver, Ethel can often be discovered piloting the Pontiac to places of interest and entertainment. Ethel endured many trials and tribulations during her probation period with her driver's permit.

An ambitious girl, Ethel has been appointed as proctor for the seventh and eighth grade girls' gym class. Ethel readily admits that she needs the help of "Kassie" in her enterprise. On Tuesdays we can find Ethel occupying her usual spot in the Mixed Glee Club.

"Best of Luck" to you, Ethel.

FAYE LaRUE SWEIGART
"Dolly"

A cheery, pleasant lass is our "Dolly". A girl with a ready smile and a radiant personality, Faye is always willing to lend a helping hand wherever she is needed.

A member of the girls' sextette and the Mixed Glee Club, Faye is definitely using the musical talent which belongs to her.

As a member of the literary staff of the "Vox", we have found that "Dolly" is a dependable girl.

Although Faye's interests are varied and her ambitions are many, we are sure that she will finally find her place as a barber's wife - isn't that so, Faye?

In all you do, Faye, we wish you all the success.

MYRA B. WALTERS
"Red"

A petite girl with lovely auburn hair, "Red" can be depended upon in emergency. This smallest member of our class is full of pep and ideas. Her neat work and appearance has made her a valuable asset to any group of which she is a member.

With a pencil in one hand and a sheaf of paper in the other, Myra was the able editor of our yearbook photography department. To her we owe the smooth progress on those hectic days of picture taking.

A true soprano, "Red" is one of the vocalists in the girls' sextette and the Mixed Glee Club. With her help, the Hi-Notes was maintained as a successful school organ. Her wide range of activities has given Myra a place in the heart of the school.

As you pursue your chosen field, Myra, we, the class of '51, wish you all life's best.

DOROTHY JANE WINDISH
"Toots"

Everyone knows "Toots" as a darkhaired lass full of life. Wherever there is activity "Dot" is in the midst of it. An intelligent girl, "Toots" makes every minute in study hall count. Wherever we see Dorothy, we see books.

As an indication of her great variety of interests, "Toots" is the captain of the Varsity Cheerleading Squad.

One of the senior forwards on the girls' basketball team, "Dot" manages to keep her basket totals high. A member of the literary staff of the yearbook, "Toots" has given us a writing hand.

Wherever you go, whatever you do, "Toots", our Best Wishes go with you.

Class

June 30, 1961, the day planned for the reunion of the class of '51 of D.H.S., has finally arrived. This reunion is being held in Western Texas at "RUTTY'S DUDE RANCH," which is owned by one of our former classmates, SHIRLEY RUTT. The invitations for this reunion were sent to us by her very efficient secretary, ETHEL STUBER. As each one arrives, he is presented with beautiful dude ranch clothing, which was designed by MILDRED RAMSEY, and also a "LEBBITY RODEO" hat, manufactured at ROBERT CROUSE'S hat factory, one of the largest hat companies in Penna. All of these people are waiting for the arrival of the other members of the class. While they are waiting, whom do they see but MR. PAUL BUCKS, wandering around the fields trying to discover the new element which makes RUTTY'S soil the finest in the land.

When the noon paper, The National Gazette, arrives, we go into the ranch house to read about the latest happenings. We notice that this paper is edited by MISS HELEN McCLEAF. Reading on, we see that ROBERT BACHMAN has just become the head of the Naval Academy at Annapolis. We also read about other great honors bestowed upon three of our former classmates --- RUTH ALICE HAGY, R.N., was just presented with the Florence Nightingale Award in Philadelphia, GLENN SHOBER has just discovered a new theory of the electrons, and URSULA NEIDHARDT, after many years in her laboratory, has finally found the cause of baldness. We know now that these five people will be unable to be with us today.

All of a sudden we hear a car coming in the driveway and eagerly we rush to the windows, and whom do we see but FRED FICHTHORN, the chauffeur for MR. JOHN KRICK, who is the principal of the new consolidated school. With him is MARY GUNSELMAN, one of the elementary teachers in the same school. They have just been welcomed and made comfortable when we hear another noise outside. We all go outside, and there we see the former FAYE SWEIGART with her six children and their nurse, FAY ALTHOUSE. She explains to us that the reason for her being late is that she had to make the daily visit to the family barber before she was able to come.

Prophecy

As we are walking around looking at the buildings which were designed by MISS JANET REINBOLD, we are all surprised to see the former MISS JANE FREY and her husband arrive. They have just come from their honeymoon in California and stopped for the afternoon entertainment.

The highlight of the afternoon is an entertaining program featuring the famous hoe-down caller, JOHN DINGER, with CARYLL HORNBERGER, pianist and fiddler, and MRS. VERNA IMBER, the guitar player. We all learn the newest methods of square dancing from KENNETH MOYER, the winner of the National Hoe-down Contest.

Tired after square dancing, we all sit down and relax to watch MR. RALPH LUTZ and his famous minstrel show. We then walk over to the corral where MR. ROBERT REBER, the famous rodeo rider, was presenting a show. As he looked at us, he was so surprised that he fell off his horse. DOROTHY WINDISH, the dude ranch nurse, ran to his aid. We were all glad to learn that he was not hurt and that we had not caused any broken bones. Throughout the afternoon we saw flashes which turned out to be from the camera of MYRA WALTERS, the flash photographer for the Gazette.

By this time we are all very hungry and so we eagerly await the meal which is being prepared by KATHRYN MARTZALL, the dietician. We are served by WILBUR HIRNEISEN, the head chef of the ranch.

After a day of much fun and laughter, we are all very tired and return to the rooms prepared for us, with thoughts of the happenings of the day and hopes of returning here again for our next reunion.

Class History

We were little Freshmen that year, but we thought we were growing up. Although many students were bus travelers, our friendships developed rapidly after we had class meetings. The most spectacular event of the year was the receiving of our Freshmen rings. As the year progressed we became more familiar with our surroundings and our teachers. We then felt like full-fledged students and thought we were ready to enter our Sophomore year.

As proof of our further advancement, we were permitted to hold our first dance, which was an April Showers Dance. Initiation of the eighth-grade pupils was one of the many hilarious occasions of our Sophomore year.

Yes, this year we were really Juniors, and we had a big year ahead of us. The first argument we had in our class occurred when we selected our Senior rings. The boys won this argument, getting red stones instead of black. This year we chose our class colors, scarlet red and white. We were really excited when our red and white sweaters arrived, followed by our caps, pennants, and emblems. The highlight of this year was the Junior-Senior Prom, which we held in honor of the seniors.

We had reached our goal - as so-called dignified seniors. This year, as was to be expected, was our busiest and most fruitful year. In preparation for the publication of the year-book we had our pictures taken. Our class was the first to venture forth in the sale of hot dogs at basketball games. We chose our flower, the red rose and our motto: "Our Goal - A Free Tomorrow." Our spring activities included a successful class play and our class trip. Finally, on Commencement night, May 25, 1951, we bade a sad farewell to Denver High School.

Last Will and Testament

We, the Class of 1951, of the Denver High School, of the County of Lancaster, of the State of Pennsylvania, being physically fit, morally responsible, and mentally alert, do hereby declare and publish this, our last will and testament in manner as follows:

We, the Senior Class, will to:

Mr. Krick: A can of oil to oil his desk chair.

Mr. Lutz: A modern encyclopedia to check his information.

Mr. Bucks: A private road to Lancaster.

Miss Frey: A husband.

Miss Reinbold: A happy marriage.

Mr. Reber: An attractive private secretary.

Miss McCleaf: A less "irking" class.

I, Myra Walters, will my red hair to Edith Petery.

I, Mary Gunselman, will my curly hair to Mary Wolf.

I, Fay Althouse, will my height to Sylvia Leed.

I, Glenn Shober, will my cheerleading ability to Harry Roseboro.

I, Ethel Stuber, will my typing ability to Donald Hain.

I, Kathryn Martzall, will my meekness to Mardell Kilhefner.

I, Ruth Alice Hagy, will my giddiness to Paul Netzley.

I, Mildred Ramsey, will my basketball ability to Joyce Hirneisen.

I, Faye Sweigart, will my jollyness to Shirley Hornberger.

I, Robert Crouse, will my driving ability to Mervin Walmer.

I, Ursula Neidhardt, will my quietness to Lyn Schlegel.

I, Wilbur Hirneisen, will my sense of humor to Galen Eberly.

I, Caryll Hornberger, will my musical ability to Anna Brubaker.

I, Dorothy Windish, will my loudness to James Beard.

I, Shirley Rutt, will my dark hair to Marian Gockley.

I, Fred Fichthorn, will my well groomed hair to Gary Grimes.

I, Robert Bachman, will my long fingernails to Betty Shober.

I, Kenneth Moyer, will my leadership to Barry Miller.

We, the Senior Class, will John Dinger to Alice Ann Kinch.

I, Fay Althouse, will my short walk to school to Kathryn Stuber.

I, Ursula Neidhardt, will my fast walking to Dale Kemper.

I, Glenn Shober, will my mischievousness to Charles Nissly.

I, Myra Walters, will my brown eyes to Melrose Moyer.

I, Faye Sweigart, will my future ambition to Carol Loose.

I, Wilbur Hirneisen, will my cooking ability to Ella May Hauck.

I, Caryll Hornberger, will my blond hair to Paul Fetter.

I, John Dinger, will my country home to Harold Weinhold so that he lives farther from Mr. Krick's home.

I, Kenneth Moyer, will my batting average to Edgar Weber.

We, the Senior Class of 1951, will to all the remaining grades, success and the best of luck in their remaining school days. In witness thereof we have hereto subscribed and affixed our name and seal this 25th day of May in the year of our Lord, 1951.
